Company History and High-Profile Projects:	Established in 1935, Cincinnati-based Dugan and Meyers Construction Co. has completed quality projects with integrity and professionalism for 75 years. Dugan & Meyers has grown from a local homebuilder to a national firm of professional constructors. Our reputation is further enhanced by our pride in workmanship and excellence in every project. Currently, Dugan & Meyers' offices are located in Cincinnati, Columbus and Louisville. The Company has played a key role in Cincinnati's most impressive projects including the Ascent, the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center, the Paul Brown Stadium, the Great American Ball Park and the I-475 Bridge. It has also done multiple projects for the University of Cincinnati including the Vontz Center for Molecular Studies, the Aronoff Center for Design Art, Architecture and Planning (DAAP), the Mary Emery Hall College Conservatory of Music, and the Swift Hall and Student Life Center. In the Columbus area, D&M has been involved in many notable projects including the One Columbus Building, The Huntington Center, Easton Towne Center, State Office Tower, the Franklin County Justice & Juvenile Detention Center and The Ohio State University Wexner Center for Visual Arts and its Fisher College of Business.
Mission Statement:	Our enterprise is an organization of construction professionals whose goals are to provide quality construction services to our clients, realize a profit while providing these services, and then share these successes with the members of our Dugan & Meyers' team. We endeavor to maintain a balance between construction management and consulting services, general and specialty contracting. Our primary focus is on a market area within a 100-mile radius of each of our Cincinnati, Columbus and Louisville offices and will continue to work with past clients throughout the Eastern United States.
Services:	Dugan & Meyers recognizes the importance of providing a variety of services for clients to create an efficient building process within budget and so we proud to offer the following services: pre-construction and estimating, in-house self-perform capabilities to fast-track any project, construction management, general contracting, concrete construction and design/build.
